Projects

FULL STACK DEVELOPER – NOVELTYBOOKS

I collaborated with a team of developers to create an e-commerce platform specifically designed for book sales.

The application was developed using a wide range of technologies, including Next.js, MongoDB, Mongoose, React, Node.js, Express, Nodemailer, Cloudinary, and Stripe for secure online transactions.

FULL STACK DEVELOPER – DOGS APP

I developed and designed a web application for dog breeds that includes searches, filters, sorting, and creation functionalities.

The application allows users to easily search for specific dog breeds, apply filters to narrow down their results, sort the breeds based on different criteria, and even create new entries. I use React, Redux, and pure CSS for the front-end, while employing Node.js with Express for the back-end. The database was constructed using PostgreSQL and Sequelize.
